TRIES TO BLOCK SANITY WITNESS

Crowe Makes Vigorous Protest in Murder Hearing

ARGUMENT OVERRULED

Loeb, Leopold Mental Status To Be Heard

CHICAGO, July 30.—State's Attorney Robert E. Crowe and his staff of assistants made a vigorous effort today to prevent admission of the long-awaited "medical defense" of Nathan Leopold and Richard Loeb, confessed murderers of Robert Franks.

A bitter fight between the state's attorneys and Clarence Darrow and other defense lawyers opened as soon as court convened today and temporarily blocked presentation of the defense testimony.

WHITE FIRST WITNESS CALLED BY DEFENSE

Dr. William A. White of Washington, D. C., was called to the witness stand as the first to testify for the defense when the state's case was rested.

Walter Bachrach, a defense lawyer, started questioning him, but was immediately interrupted by Crowe who demanded that the court either exclude the medical testimony or impanel a jury to try the question of insanity.

Crowe interrupts testimony with debate.

"These boys, your honor, have pleaded guilty," Crowe shouted, "and any attempt of the defense to introduce the question of insanity should be and must be stopped by this court. Your honor has no authority to decide whether these boys are sane or insane. If this question is to be answered, your honor must, under the law, impanel a jury."

"Hypnotic attorneys argued back and forth, shouting, from supreme court benches in support of their arguments. Crowe and his assistant, Thomas Marshall, argued heatedly while Darrow and his aides answered with equal vigor.

INSANITY TESTIMONY QUESTIONED BY STATE

Crowe said that the defense could not offer testimony showing insanity after having pleaded guilty. If the boys are insane, Crowe said, he would

1 SHOT, SCORE HURT IN RIOT

Ku Klux, Anti-Klan Men Stage Pitched Battle

NORTH LANCASTER, Mass., July 30.—One man was shot, nearly a score injured and several automobiles wrecked in a battle between 200 members of the Ku Klux Klan and 500 anti-klanmen here during the night.

Edward F. Bird, Leominster, said to be an anti-klanman, was in a hospital probably fatally wounded from gunshot. The others are not seriously hurt.

Fight Started Late

Trouble started late last night and continued until dawn today. A Klan meeting was being held in a large field on the Lancaster-Leominster Highway and a crowd collected. As the klanmen started leaving the field, witnesses said, sticks and stones began to fly and a gun was fired. It was this shot that wounded Bird.

Police were unable to quell the fighting and assistance was called from Worcester, Fitchburg, Spencer, Leominster and other towns. Mountain men of the klanmen succeeded in reaching their automobiles and escaped in a shower of stones.

Shall Texas' Governor Wear Bedsheet or Petticoat, Issue Raised for Second Primary

BY C. P. LILLY

Editor Houston Press

HOUSTON, Texas, July 30.—Shall the governor of Texas wear a bedsheet or bedsheet?

This is the predominant issue in the second democratic primary August 23, at which the democratic nominee for the governorship of Texas will be selected. Such nomination assumes the winner of election.

The odds today favor the petticoat. The two candidates in the runoff are: Mrs. Miriam Ferguson of Temple, Texas, wife of James Ferguson, once impeached as governor of Texas, and Judge Felix Robertson of Dallas, Texas, klanman, running as the Ku Klux Klan candidate.

One wears a petticoat. The other hides himself behind a bedsheet and mask on Klan meeting nights. Neither has advanced any important governmental reforms as a reason for being elected.

Mrs. Ferguson is running because she wants "to wipe out the stain on the family name" brought about by her husband's impeachment while Governor. Robertson is in the race because the Ku Klux Klan wants to elect a governor of Texas—and thinks it can.

To effect this, there is a strong Klan vote, the prejudice against a woman holding any office and the fact that many voters cannot for give Jim Ferguson for certain things he did while governor.

All in all, the race between the petticoat and bedsheet promises to be a close one. Let the petticoat wear the last word.

J. R. Adams to Build 6-Story Building to Cost $700,000

BIDS WILL BE OPENED AUG. 18

16 Marble Pillows to Grace Austin-Fifth Fronts

TO OCCUPY HALF BLOCK

Adams, Hodges to Occupy Ground Floor

Port Arthur found itself launched into the metropolitan class today.

Bids will be opened August 18 by contractors, material men, electrical and plumbing and other supply concerns for the construction here of a six-story business and office building by John R. Adams, department store operator and ship chandler.

Preliminary estimates place the cost of the new structure at $700,000 or more. H. C. Maier of Beaumont is the architect.

Faith in Port Arthur

Actual construction on the new building which will be the finest in Port Arthur and in excellence of construction equal to anything in Beaumont, will start about October 1. Construction operations will occupy the better part of a year, it was said today.

"Construction of this imposing building by Mr. Adams confirms an abiding faith which he has always felt in Port Arthur," a man close to Adams declared today. "You may be assured that the expenditure of this amount of money in Port Arthur on a single building venture is ample proof of the regard which Adams has for the future of Port Arthur."

Both in exterior and in interior the planned specifications call for the most modern structure money can buy, with refinements which can only be duplicated in cities of from one to several hundred thousand. The building in no sense will be a skyscraper, but from the huge basement flanked by sturdy foundations to the top of Unfolding of plans for the fair showed the exposition will be on a much more comprehensive and elaborate scale than at first planned. Several distinct divisions, any of which could be featured as an exposition within itself, will be incorporated.

Beaumont's O. K. Of Rail Merger Seen As Menace to District

Success of Merger Would Mean All Sabine District Ports Would Suffer Alike, C. of C. View Here

Deal a cold card from the bottom of the deck, the Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce and Shipping and traffic department today found their plans tied in the net of a proposed merger of the Missouri Pacific and Gulf Coast lines.

Recently the chamber was given every assurance from the Beaumont chamber that it contemplated no endorsement of the proposed merger. Since Port Arthur action in the matter naturally hinged on any other action which might be taken by ports in the Sabine district, the chamber here took no action.

Vision of Wheat a Mirage

Visions of endless trains hauling wheat to Beaumont wharves and docks for export, as a result of such a merger, was given by the Gulf Coast Lines, it is understood, and at the last minute the Beaumont chamber quietly went on record favoring the merger.

Today the situation as a result of the merger of the Sabine district, including Beaumont, is a possible position to lose out at the hands of large railroads in proposed consolidation. H. Y. Taylor, traffic manager of the Port Arthur chamber, pointed out today.

Had the question of endorsement come before the newly organized Sabine District Industrial association where it belonged, the error made by the Beaumont chamber could easily have been avoided, chamber officials said. This was construed to mean that the Beaumont chamber was a strategic maneuver to put Port Arthur grain exports finds itself in a position never to realize its ambition, but helps a rail plan by which it itself will be the principal sufferer.

Would Join Three Lines

Rail mileage which would be centralized by the merger would include the T. & N., new part of the Gulf Coast, the Gulf Coast and Missouri Pacific lines.

The action of the Beaumont chamber, taken Tuesday, following an address before directors of that body by the general manager of the Gulf Coast line, The Gulf Coast official according to press reports, pictured to the Beaumont chamber directors would profit by great grain movements if the proposed merger were made.

Should the merger of the Missouri Pacific and the Gulf Coast lines become effective it is proposed to have two branches, one by way of Houston and the other by way of New Orleans. Since the T. & N. and G. C. has been merged with the Gulf Coast line any further linking up would greatly affect south Texas, Taylor says.

Menace to District

"The Port Arthur Chamber of Commerce takes the position the merger would be a position adverse to the Sabine district itself, not accepting Beaumont, and the grain receiving the quickest way to reach Buffalo.

MRS. FERGUSON STILL LEADING

Holds 3,000 Majority for Runoff Rights

DALLAS, July 30.—Little change was shown early today in the tabulation of 632,494 votes out of a possible 700,000 cast in Saturday's democratic primary in the gubernatorial race.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, wife of the impeached governor continues to hold her lead of around 3,000 votes, according to the tabulation of the Texas Election Bureau.

These two have secured back and forth for second place since first returns trickled in, and it will require a full count of the ballots to determine the opponent of Judge Felix D. Robertson, Ku Klux Klan candidate who led the field of nine gubernatorial candidates.

Sheppard Nominated

Senator Morris Sheppard has been nominated for another six year term, holding a clear majority over two opponents, which is equivalent to election in Texas where the democrats hold sway at the polls.

Judge Harry Miller of Dallas and Will C. Edwards, Denton newspaper publisher have been nominated for places on the ballot in the runoff for lieutenant governor.

Latest Returns Compiled

Texas Election Bureau returns today show:

Governor—Lynch Davidson 126,579; Ferguson 129,422; Robertson 170,316; White Davidson 109,276.

Attorney General—Melton 81,239; Moody 245,971; Wall 95,923; Ward 97,165.

AIRDOME BLAZE $5,000 DAMAGE

Officers Believe Building Destroyed by Incendiary

INVESTIGATION MADE

Fire Marshal Coe Says Wiring Not Defective

Fire which police and other officers believe resulted from an incendiary origin last night damaged the Airdome theater, Eighth and Waco, approximately $5,000. Insurance amounting possibly to $2,000 according to the insurance company holding the policy on the building.

Police Chief Covington began a close investigation this morning following the first report to reach him that the fire was believed to be incendiary. Constable M. E. Fiker also said he had been presented with evidence which he will follow out in an attempt to prove whether the fire was really incendiary.

One Withholds Statement

Fire Marshal Coe would not state whether he believed the fire the work of an incendiary, but said it was entirely possible. He said he had investigated no further than to prove to his own satisfaction the blaze did not come from defective wiring.

Fire Chief LaRue has not been gotten in touch with but his version will be forthcoming following the investigation, it is understood.

RATE SAVING MADE BY C-C

20 Per Cent Cut Secured on Shipments

Savings of 20 per cent. on shipping rates for goods which come from the middle central states down the Mississippi to New Orleans and from there to here via the Southern Pacific route has just been effected through the efforts of Traffic Manager H. Y. Taylor of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping who today received official notification his contention for Port Arthur had been granted.

All Gulf port cities in the state except Port Arthur had this reduction and Taylor has for the past three months been contending with the Southern Pacific and the Mississippi Warrent Steamship lines that Port Arthur should not be discriminated.

Port Arthur merchants can get the new reduction figures from the traffic department of the chamber now, Taylor states.

Peggy Joyce and Her Swedish Husband Execute a Marathon To Annul Matrimonial Papers

NEW YORK, July 30.—The most recent matrimonial marathon essayed by the veteran Peggy Hopkins Joyce ended today with the actress and her Swedish count husband in a neck and neck sprint to get their stories into the papers and their annulment papers into court.

"I paid his laundry bills," shrieked Peggy.

"I paid only my title. O, what a gentleman!" retorted Count Costa Morier the stalwart, fairhaired Scandinavian abbeym, whom the actress started loving, honoring and obeying. June 2 at Atlantic City.

Having had a little more experience in her husband, Peggy beat him in the publicity by a few hours—a tale of woe and sea support and $10,000 spent on a regrettable honeymoon. The count countered by getting his court action under way first, naming a summons in an action for annulment of marriage served upon his wife as she emerged from the federal building where she had been staying in the trial of William J. Fenton, a lawyer friend of hers accused of jury bribing.

Following which he hinted at a story, time having been had by all since he became Peggy's fourth husband.

"What about what Peggy said that day after the wedding—that at last she had found real love?" the count was asked.

"To Swedish words for love sounds something like 'heiska'—which is, of course, exactly what the count replied today.

EXPECT ARRESTS IN MURPHY CASE

Constable Says Hermit Slain By Whisky Ring

Two arrests probably will be made today by Constable H. F. Baker in connection with the disappearance 10 days ago of Tom ("Shotgun") Murphy, boat tender and baiter of Taylor's Barron near Port Arthur whom the constable contends was killed by a whisky ring because of Murphy's alleged friendliness to officers of the law. Baker said following clues in the man's disappearance.

The decision to arrest at least two suspects is founded after much investigation of the past three days and because a chain of circumstantial evidence, Baker said. Baker and Deputy Johnson spent the whole of Tuesday afternoon searching the lower half of the marshland near Murphy's home, where he has lived a recluse the past three years.

No Trace of Body

No trace of the body was found nor any further clue of his whereabouts noted by Baker and Johnson, or an still thoroughly convinced that Murphy's death and that body-snatchers are responsible," Baker declared today.

This afternoon the upper half of the marshland will be searched. Should the body not be found this time Baker said the body would be dragged in the vicinity where Murphy, in his boat, was last seen Monday afternoon. The bullet hole in the boat which Murphy was seen to put out in Monday afternoon, and for the last time, is the only clue officers have.

Some Say Man's Alive

There are still those who contend Murphy put out to sea. Why he should leave a watch on his dining room table, his clothes and everything of value he possessed is the question raised by Baker and Johnson and others who believe the hermit has met with foul play.

That Murphy had nothing to fear from the law or anybody else to cause him to flee and leave no word of his destination is pointed out as reason why he did not slip off to sea. Relatives are trying to be located by officers in hopes of finding out more about the recluse.

SITUATION IS MORE SERIOUS IN EAST TEXAS

Warning Issued by Health Officers at Austin

CHECK IMPOSSIBLE

Fatal Disease Sweeping Arkansas and Tennessee

MEMPHIS, July 30.—Two additional deaths in Mississippi from anthrax were reported today bringing the unofficial total to six. A white man and a white girl died yesterday near Waynesboro, Mississippi.

The disease has extended into 29 counties of that state, according to reports to state officials, and scores of livestock are dying daily in Mississippi, Tennessee and Arkansas.

COOL WEATHER NEEDED TO CHECK DISEASE

Health officials expressed little hope of checking the disease below cool weather.

Seven new infected localities were reported from Arkansas today and a few cases were reported from North Alabama.

The disease is not so widespread in Tennessee.

ORANGE, HARDIN, LIBERTY AND JEFFERSON AFFECTED

AUSTIN, July 30.—The outbreak of anthrax in Southeast Texas was reported today by Dr. H. G. Cloud, state veterinarian of the Livestock Sanitary commission, to be growing serious and warning was issued that territory precaution be taken to prevent further spread of the disease which is taking a heavy toll of human and animal life in Arkansas, Tennessee and Mississippi. The affected areas in Texas, according to Dr. Cloud include the counties of Orange, Hardin, Jefferson and Liberty, all of which is under quarantine.

ENGLISH FLOUR
HITS TOP PRICE

Standard Bread Loaf Increased to 10 Pence

(Copyright, 1934, United Press)

LONDON, July 30.—Sensational rises in the wheat market in the United States have been followed by equal increases in the price of wheat and flour in England.

Flour in English markets has jumped 10 shillings a sack since July 1 and a total of 17 shillings since May, causing apprehension throughout the country.

Standard Loaf Jumps

The standard four-pound British loaf, already increased from the old eight-penny price, will jump to 10 pence next Monday.

To the English farmer wheat growing is profitable for the first time since the war, but the great majority of the population—the wage earners—the high price of bread means only added strain on the family budget.

Spectacular advances in flour prices during the present month have caused concern to the nation for fear of resumption of the wartime practice of government wheat buying (a post equivalent to the American secretaries of commerce) says a Canadian crop expert.

"The factor most influencing the outlook at present is the uncertainty of the Canadian crop to which may be attributed the recent rise in prices. This situation undoubtedly has been aided, as is usual in such circumstances, by market speculation.

"There seems to be at present a world supply of wheat during the coming season that will be under requirements. Although prices for a time may continue at higher levels than during the corresponding period last year, there is not sufficient reason for expecting a pending shortage or even a scarcity of wheat."

No Corner Seen

In the great world market at Liverpool there is a strong opinion that the present rise in wheat prices in the United States is not due to any attempt to corner world wheat supplies, as such a procedure would involve tremendous risk owing to the uncertainty of the Canadian yield and prospects for the coming crop in Australia and Argentina.

The rise in the opinion of Liverpool merchants is due principally to the operation of "bull cliques" in Chicago. Although prices have advanced to a certain extent on all exchanges because of unfavorable crop reports from Canada and parts of the United States, it is believed there is a widespread tendency to follow Chicago's lead and attempt to frighten buyers into paying enhanced prices.

Consumption Increased

On the other hand, Liverpool admits the fact that there has been some justification in the increase consumption of wheat in Japan and China. Japan is using twice the amount of wheat it did before the war and the Chinese also are forsaking rice to a considerable extent.

It is also admitted that the Russian supply cannot reach pre-war proportions for some years to come.

Liverpool believes, however, that present rises in the wheat market will stop when unexpected supplies become available or when Japan and China, disgusted by high prices, go back to rice, corn and other cereals.

PLEAD GUILTY

MOUND CITY, Ill., July 30.—In a courtroom guarded by 100 armed special deputies, Hess Connors and Fred Hale, Chicago negroes, today pleaded guilty to the murder of Daisy Wilton, 15-year-old white girl slain defending her father's store at Villa Ridge from robbery. At the same time the grand jury returned indictments against five unnamed men for participating in the mob which tried to lynch two Memphis negroes, held as suspects in connection with the murder.

Request of I. N. Hudson for state troops to guard the courtroom were refused by governor Small.

Division Post of Emergency
Fleet Urged for Texas Port

Chamber Commerce Wants Ship Repairing and Money Diverted From New Orleans Naval Yards

Approving a plan whereby the Emergency Fleet corporation could establish a permanent division office at some Texas point and that some part be allowed to maintain a station for the repair of federal ships, the maritime committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Shipping met Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Under the present system all Texas business in fleet matters regarding government action or approval must be handled through New Orleans. There is a branch office at Galveston, but little work is done there and all matters of approval must be sent to New Orleans. The maritime committee along with a number of other Texas cities affected went on record asking the change be made soon.

Port Question Discussed

The question of a port where government ships could be repaired in Texas was discussed as of equal importance in some respects. That Texas is entitled to such a port with its millions of dollars of government business which would come to the attention of the committee. At present the government has two such repair docks one at Mobile and another at New Orleans.

Traffic Manager H. Y. Taylor at the instance of the maritime committee mailed a letter expressing the local viewpoint to Admiral L. C. Palmer head of the Emergency Fleet corporation.

BIDS WILL BE

The sixth floor will represent a triumph in architectural and building art, it was announced.

On Austin-Fifth Corner

Construction will be on Austin avenue and Fifth streets, necessitating the removal of a group of small buildings facing both thoroughfares. It will be 140 feet wide on Austin, reaching the alley dividing the block in the rear of the First National bank, and extend 150 feet in depth, with entrance on both Austin and Fifth.

Soil tests for foundations already have been made and have been found satisfactory, it was announced.

Exclusive of the ground floor, which will be divided in two business houses, the Fifth street side to be occupied by John R. Adams & Co. and the Austin side by Hodges Co., Inc., 150 offices, many arranged en suite, will be provided.

The second will be a mezzanine floor extending completely around the circumference of the building.

16 Granite, Marble Pillars

One of the outstanding features of the new building from an architectural standpoint will be the use of eight granite and marble columns on each of the Austin and Fifth street fronts. Here the juncture with the second floor will overhang about six feet, the support resting on the pillars. The first floor entrances will be practically solid plate glass fronts. Terra cotta will be freely used in the fronts of the second, third, fourth, fifth and sixth stories.

The building will be of reinforced concrete, fireproof throughout. In the interior a modern lighting scheme will be used, enhanced by chandelier clusters on the indirect lighting system. Compressed air tubes will be provided to offices for use especially by dentists.

Ice Cold Water System

Drinking fountains will be provided in corridors, with an ice water system supplying floors and offices. Four electric elevators will be provided, two for passenger service and two for freight.

As an index of the care to be used in providing for adequate foundation needs, more than a thousand pilings specially treated for resistance will be driven. The foundation will be of reinforced concrete.

MILES HEARING
LATE TODAY

Commission, Attorneys in Case Report at Court

Long delayed hearing on City Clerk E. H. Miles temporary injunction restraining the city commission from discharging him or in any way interfering with his duties was to be heard before Judge J. D. Campbell in 40th district court this afternoon at 2:30.

At 2 o'clock it was believed the hearing might take several hours, and that decision might not be handed down making the injunction permanent or dissolving it until Thursday or later in the week.

Members of the city commission, comprised of Mayor J. P. Logan, B. J. Wade and H. H. Wiley, City Clerk Miles, City Attorney V. J. Wistner for the city and R. L. Murray, attorney for Miles, were in the courtroom this afternoon.

Miles was discharged by the city commission more than a month ago, the commission in a formal letter of notice to Miles declaring that his services were not satisfactory.

The city clerk immediately petitioned for an injunction, a temporary injunction being granted by Judge Campbell.

Following his recovery from an operation which necessitated a postponement from the date originally set Miles has been continuing his duties as city clerk.

Other Commission Chosen

Water fees and other amusements for each day of the exposition will play a large part, the directors stated. Bill Archer will be in charge of this committee assisted by H. L. Conklin, P. Sandefur and D. A. McGlachlin.

"Beaumont's action comes as a surprise and disappointment. Had we anticipated Port Arthur would have been concerned before the preliminary hearing at New Orleans Monday and Tuesday protesting, Port Arthur chamber will take official action on this soon," Taylor said.

Taylor also points out that the state of Louisiana like the city of Beaumont has shifted its position and that Huey P. Long in charge of the Louisiana Seismic commission went on record at the last minute of favoring the position.

ported. A style show which will be under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' association will be one big unit.

A committee has been working on the style show for about two months, and is said to have practically completed all details in this connection. An auto show will be a distinct attraction and E. J. Baker and Mart May were appointed a committee to be in charge. That practically every popular make of car with their different styles will be exhibited at the fair is the purpose now.

A large exhibition rain-proof tent will be secured for this purpose, according to present plans.

Another big feature will be a women's department, which will include poultry, a baby show, fine art exhibits, relics, flowers and home economics displays. Mesdames E. A. Young, P. T. Donahue and Mrs. K. C. Rogers are a committee to work on these features.

Public School Exhibit

Port Arthur's public schools and the Port Arthur college will also be given large parts at the fair. Exhibits of school work and amusement programs featuring pupils will be in charge of P. A. Butler.

Port Arthur's Industrial side will be shown to its greatest advantage of the fair. The refineries are to be allowed large spaces for exhibits and products manufactured in Port Arthur will be expected to take much space. The committee to attend to this feature is composed of B. R. ## DELAY SENDING PRECINCT VOTE

Official Count To Be Made Saturday

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 30.—An official election count will be made Saturday, and until that time candidates will have no way of knowing exactly the number of votes they received.

County Executive Chairman P. A. Duran checked over the number of returns from the various precincts over the county this morning and found that there were still seven from Port Arthur and vicinity that had not been received at the court house yet. There has been a slight misunderstanding over the number of votes cast in these precincts and no official announcement of the number of votes cannot be determined at this time. Meanwhile, lacking the official figures, figures of the Port Arthur News only paper in the county to publish the election returns Sunday morning, were being accepted by candidates and county officials as correct, pending a canvass.

ABSENTEE VOTERS TO CAST BALLOTS

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 30.—Absentee voters in the run-off will be allowed to cast their ballots between August 2 and August 10. Affidavits for voters who will be out of the county on election day will be made before county clerk W. A. Coward.

THIRD EXPENSE ACCOUNTS ASKED

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 30.—All candidates have been advised to send in their third expense accounts by August 5. This is the last account, candidates will need to make to the county clerk. The second primary will be held August 23 and candidates who have not as yet used the entire amount allowed them under the law may use the balance in the run-off.

"The amount involved in the stock transfer was $1,150,000," the statement continued.

Roy G. Watson announced his intention of returning to Houston after spending several months abroad.

Peace Responsibility Rests With U. S.

LONDON, July 30.—America alone can bring about world peace. And it can do it only by calling a conference of all nations for disarmament on land, on sea and in the air.

The naval disarmament conference in Washington in 1921, Morel declares, "merely was a start in the right direction."

"But we need complete disarmament, not only on the sea, but on land and in the air."

"Europe today resembles a drunken man smoking a cigar on a barrel of dynamite. The president of the United States can avert the danger that threatens us all."

"And he can do it without involving his country either in the League of Nations or the World Court of Justice."

"All the cards are in America's hands. The president could put the case so clearly that no responsible government would dare refuse the call and face its own people."

It was largely through Morel's speeches and books that oppression of the natives in the rubber regions of the Belgian Congo was done away with.

During the war he went to jail for six months for the technical offense of trying to send some of his books to the celebrated French pacifist, Romain Rolland, in Switzerland. Had he been an American, that might have finished his career.

But in the last parliamentary election, the canny Scotsman of Dundee elected him by over 10,000 majority over Winston Churchill, one of the most noted of all British statesmen of the present generation.

"Many foolishly dreamed," says Morel, "that out of all this war's hell would come a Utopian condition in which racial, religious and national rivalries and bitterness would be ended."

Yet today there is more hatred in the world than ever. And the powerful armament interests are taking advantage of this.

"We bear a great deal about Germany arming and drilling, but so in France. And the most vital threat to peace right now is the manner in which the Balkans are being supplied with the implements for mankilling."

"America is entitled to demand this wicked armament of them shall cease."

HONEYBALL ASSOCIATION IS LATEST IN TEXAS

PORT WORTH, July 30.—A new industry is rapidly taking shape in Port Worth, and the first shipment of the new "breakfast aristocrat" will take place this week.

The Texas Honeyball association, with headquarters here, is the new industry. The company has imported a corps of experienced fruit men who will be scattered at strategic points over the state to oversee the selection, packing and grading of the fruit.

A large supply of crates and necessary packing equipment is already on hand. The melons will be graded into classes A, B and C, having 12, 15 and 18 melons to the crate respectively. It is claimed that there is a world-wide field for the industry.

On any subject there is always more ignorance than intelligence.

Walton's speech was mainly an arraignment of the Klan, in which he was very emphatic in his declarations that the hooded members were "yellow," "cowards," etc.

One egg was hurled while the ex-governor was touring into the Klan, but it missed its mark.

Klax police were detailed to the park and although there was some heckling, no riotous acts occurred.

INDUSTRIAL COMMERCIAL FINANCIAL

PORT ARTHUR GULF REFINING COMPANY

In addition to its pre-eminence as an oil export and refinery center, Port Arthur has within its industrial confines the largest petroleum refinery in the world—THE GULF REFINING COMPANY. This was the first oil refining industry in Port Arthur, and its steady and growth to its present huge proportions is an outstanding feature in the industrial world. Started 1901, on a small scale, it had grown in 1903 to a refinery with a capacity of 6,000 barrels a day, employing 300 men, and operating its own fleet of seagoing vessels of 13,063 net registered tonnage, and 658 barrels capacity. By 1923 these figures had increased as follows: Refining capacity 103,000 bbls (50 gallons per barrel) per day; employees 8,000; fleet tonnage 92,359, capacity of fleet, 1,330,506 bbls.

DAILY REFINING CAPACITY, barrels	6,000	103,000
EMPLOYEES	300	8,000
FLEET CAPACITY (Seagoing Vessels)
Net registered Tonnage	13,063	82,359
Capacity—in barrels	176,658	1,330,506

In addition to the oil refinery proper, in which all petroleum products from gasoline to coke are produced in vast quantities, the Gulf Refining Co. operates machine and boiler shops, and various other mechanical shops, so that it is prepared at short notice to handle any work that may be necessary or desirable for continuous operation, from the heaviest to the lightest classes of work, from building a large tank or forging a ship's rudder post, to stitching in sacks on a sewing machine or repairing the delicate clockwork of expensive recording devices. Practically every mechanical craft is represented on the Company's payroll. This refinery is operated twenty-four hours a day, and, during the past twenty years, or more, has not been shut down for a minute.

The Company maintains its own hydraulic dredging rams, and, at its own expense, dredged a special 30 foot depth channel from the ship canal to it where it maintains a modern, concrete wharf 3000 feet in length, at which wharf oil carrying vessels from the smallest to the largest are handled with great dispatch, both in loading and discharging.

Last year millions of dollars were spent in improving enlarging the plant, but even this has not sufficed, and the company is now about to start additional improvements involving the expenditure of several million dollars.

This is the first of a series of articles devoted to the INDUSTRIAL, COMMERCIAL, FINANCIAL progress of Port Arthur and vicinity. Other articles will appear each Wednesday.

Odds and Ends and Comment on Our Morning Mail

Grasshoppers have been so thick in Texas this summer the people have had to fight them with arsenic by the trainload.

In South Africa the government has just appropriated $1,500,000 to fight a plague of locusts, the worst on record. In one district, near the Orange river, a single swarm of locusts, extending in an unbroken mass 150 miles in length, is reported to have devoured every bit of green vegetation.

The peculiar weather of the last few years has been very favorable to insects of all kinds. Army worms have been destroying crops in the middle west. Grasshopper plagues. Further progress by the boll weevil. So on, insect enemies, countless billions of them, driving farmers nearly frantic.

Reputable scientists frequently point out that a battle is on, between men and insects, for supremacy on earth.

Some even believe that the insects will win.

It wouldn't take many insect victories, on the scale of the ravages of the boll weevil which is wrecking the American cotton growing industry, to bring men close to starvation. If the corn borer, for instance, gets as far beyond control as the boll weevil, it would eventually be a greater national loss than the money Uncle Sam spent in the world war.

Fortunately, man wins in the long run. Take the disease-carrying mosquito. It has not been vanquished, but it has been driven back—curbed.

Everything in nature has its destroyer and is, in turn, a destroyer itself. Man kills the insect. The insect kills man, by conveying disease, and also destroys his crops. Falling water destroys the mountains gradually by washing it away. The mountain destroys the valley, slowly filling it.

Grasshoppers eat the crops. Chickens eat the grasshoppers. Men eat the chickens.

Destruction balances or equals construction. The destroying and constructing are the manifestations of the activity known as life. Nothing is permanent in our existence of three dimensions. Life is an experience, a journey, a succession of changes.

It would, after all, be a dull life if we didn't have these changes—including insects to worry. We'd win against the insects, but if we were as untried and active against them as when we destroy each other in war.

Uncle Sam says 1934 will be a big year in two ways. He hopes to announce then the final paying off of the war debt. The treasury's plans are based that way. The date will be later if prices drop materially and the people's incomes are correspondingly cut, thereby reducing money available for taxation.

In 1934, also, Uncle Sam expects to have the country bone-dry. That was the date set by experts when national prohibition went into effect. They didn't kid themselves that it could be brought about overnight. One generation, at least.

This is a good time to buy your bituminous coal for the winter. Recently the soft coal mines have been producing less than at any time for five years except during strikes. Output has been about half of what it is when mines are rushed.

Chicago father arrested for keeping his boy chained all day at home. Pa says he's always working and chaining was the only way he could keep the lad at home. "He stays out until 2 o'clock in the morning sometimes."

The solution of such a problem is not chains, but more playgrounds and recreation centers for the young. High land values and congestion of population have taken from youth its rightful heritage, a place to play. Even allers, delight of boyhood, are becoming a vanishing institution. How can we expect youngsters to seek innocent enjoyment when they haven't any place for it?

The Wall Street jackpot grows. In the first half of the year 1936 million dollars worth of stocks and bonds were added to the listings on the N. Y. Stock Exchange. The bonds totaled roughly twice as much as the stocks. And over 271 million dollars represented foreign bonds.

We are rapidly approaching the day when the entire national wealth will be blanketed by securities. It will be a big mortgage, and everyone will pay interest on it.

United Cigar Stores and agencies number about 2500. The Woolworth 5-and-10-cent chain has around 1300 stores. There are more than 100 Childs restaurants.

And these are only a few of the many chain store systems. Chains of hotels are being established. Chains of department stores are growing.

The retail business—bridge between producer and consumer in the marketing of commodities and services—is steadily amalgamating into gigantic chains.

This movement or tendency is strikingly similar to the industrial combinations among producers that began to get under way about two decades ago. U. S. Steel, formed in 1902, was the big leader. Now the same thing is taking place in retailing.

G. O. P. CLAMS NEW ENGLAND STATES FOR COOLIDGE

Republican managers are in advance of the November election, all the New England states. These states with their electoral votes follow:

Maine	6
Vermont	4
Massachusetts	18
New Hampshire	4
Rhode Island	4
Connecticut	7
Total	44

There are democratic flirts who concede to the republicans the electoral votes of Massachusetts, Vermont, Maine and Connecticut, but they do not concede the votes of either Rhode Island or Vermont. Furthermore they say that the Massachusetts democrats will re-elect to the senate David I. Walsh who is all powerful as a political leader and has the backing of all the working people of the state as well as the regular democratic machine.

Massachusetts is a molstate and the most of the political leaders in both parties are personally wet although there are many who are politically dry. Rhode Island and New Hampshire, great manufacturing states, have democratic governors. All the big mill owners & those whom they control are republicans. All the mill workers are either democrats or independents.

Governor William S. Kim of Rhode Island predicts that Davis and Bryan will carry the five electoral votes of his state. In Rhode Island the republicans are making their last stand and a desperate start is. They have blocked all labor and welfare legislation, it has blocked all reform legislation and the democrats are making the most of it.

All the state forces allied with democrats and under the leadership of Flynn are better organized than at any time since the civil war. Coolidge is not popular with the mill workers of Rhode Island. He is looked upon as the president of consolidated wealth and the great textile trust which has governed the New England states for more than sixty years.

Almost the same condition exist in New Hampshire where Senator George H. Moses the leader of the republican reactionaries and John Winans the spokesman of progressive republicans who are clamor for a League of Nations and welfare laws for working men and children. Governor F. H. Brown, leader of the democrats, is confident that New Hampshire will remain in the democratic column this year and that its four electoral votes will go to Davis and Bryan.

Maine for more than six years has been a republican Gibraltar. Now the republicans are much concerned over the fortunes of the party within that state. A republican reversal there may have a disastrous effect on the republican cause in November. If the usual republican majority is rolled up it will signify that normal conditions in the Pine Tree state and that the party of the elephant may be hard to dislodge from the White House.

BEAUMONT A BAD WAY

Beaumont is slowly coming to realize she is in a bad way for docks, warehouses and ship equipment. Those in charge have realized the desperate situation the city was in and would be in more as time passed. The truth of the matter is Beaumont has not an adequate harbor or adequate facilities to care for shipping. The present houses and docks, built at enormous expense have never requirements and certainly if shipping increases at the upper port, they will be in worse way than ever before.

Business men of Beaumont have realized this situation for some time. They know pretty well that the situation calls for stringent action but we let it if the proposed $500,000 bond issue will even begin to set the port problem there. The docks are situated badly and are beginning to realize it. There is no room for expansion. Some have suggested that the docks as now located be abandoned and they go across to the Orange side where adequate space may be found. It is doubtful if this idea could be carried out although in the end it might be the best plan.

Port Arthur on the other hand has better facilities, more dock space and greater warehouse room. It can care for more business in one day than Beaumont can in a week. Beaumont has the railroads, the faithful working and boosting citizens coupled with a determination to be a port. In the end they may win for them. In the meantime Port Arthur has every facility with the exception of railroads. This will be solved when the Col Duff is built. Then watch our expansion and growth.

Your Money AT WORK

What does it cost to retail?

What does it cost to retail?
The cost of a retailing takes a good part of the money you spend. When you go into a store you must pay for the time of the clerk who waits upon you, something towards the rent of the building, something toward advertising, for their paper or container used to wrap your goods and numerous other items of expense.

About eighteen cents out of each dollar you spend in a grocery store goes to meet expenses and about twenty-eight cents in a shoe store. Jewelry stores are much more expensive to operate, requiring about forty cents. Men's clothing stores keep about twenty cents out of each dollar to go toward expense and it costs a similar amount to sell meat. Retailing drugs is somewhat more expensive, amounting to about twenty-eight percent of sales.

INTIMACIES
Most problems in life are problems of intimacies.
What makes marriages so difficult to that is a great intimacy.
People are so constituted that they cannot get along very well together unless they run in certain grooves and attend certain forms.
There are very few people with whom you can be free and careless. The first thing you know there will be a blow up.
Formality often saves the situation. For sincerity often requires a sincere soul to believe it and an open mind, whereby anybody can get behind good manners.
It is essential that husband and wife remain polite to each other. When they cease being so marriage is in danger.
Very often the complaint that people are formal is a complaint against shyness and not against exclusiveness. Many people are not cordial and open for the simple reason that they do not want to be hurt. They have found out by experience that most people take advantage of intimacies to annoy them. Hence they come

CHATTER XVI
Ivan Succeeds
Just before noon of the following day Pete—who was reading beside the camp fire—made out a moving speck in the distance, inland hills; and close scrutiny proved it to be Ivan, returning from his quest. In half an hour he would be at camp and Dorothy in his arms.

Pete understood perfectly the full significance of this return. It marked, indeed, the turning point in his own great adventure: his personal watch of the girl would be over, and a few hours thereafter she would sail away.

The one joy that was left him was to watch the dear, remembered killing of her luminous eyes. He made his way quietly to her tent.

"Mr. Isham is returning," he told her simply, still in the character of Pete the guide, "He's in plain sight already."

The girl's lips parted, but her face did not at once flush with pleasure. Yet her expression showed instant, unmistakable relief. It was all that was needed to convince Pete that the girl had found her happiness; and he was persuaded that her tenderness yesterday, after she had brought him home, was merely an instinctive reaction—an echo of her almost-forgotten love for Peter Newhall—of which her conscious self made no interpretation.

The girl looked breathlessly into Pete's haggard face. Fortunately he did not guess the full truth; that her genuine relief was not at having her lover come again, but only because it permitted her to escape from her own doubts and fears.

She left the camp and trudged up the hill to meet Ivan. He waved to behind the veil of ceremony.

There are very few people in the world with whom we want to be intimate, and even fewer with whom we require understanding and understanding requires love.

To find an understanding love that forgives all because it comprehends all is very rare. It is for this reason that we must treat everybody with uniform courtesy, for it is behind this courtesy that we find our own protection.

Intimacies are trials of the soul. Our children come to know us as no one else does.

That is the principal reason why most people get along so ill with their families. They are compelled to be great. It does not matter so much if they are good or not.

But it is impossible to live with anyone very long on terms of great intimacy who is not great.

The LAND OF FORGOTTEN MEN by Edison Marshall

Released by NEA Service, Inc. Copyright, 1923 by Little, Brown &amp; Co.

BEGIN HERE TODAY
Peter Newhall, Augusta, Ga., flew to Alaska, after being told by Ivan Isham, a Russian, that the land of the forgotten men was in the North. Paul Barich, Isham's secretary, Isham and Peter's wife, Dorothy, had agreed to fly to the South America. He took his wife, Dorothy, and Isham to Alaska to return Peter's body. They do not know where the body is, but from Peter telling her to accept Isham's marriage proposal, Isham goes for supplies. Peter falls in a hole on a hunting trip. Dorothy finds her greatest happiness in rescuing him.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
She knew now why, even from the first hour, the grim adventure on this shore had been thrilling to her. She knew why she had befriended Pete against Ivan, why his company had been so comforting, and she understood why her whole world had passed into darkness when she had seen him fall. The first caribou hunt, on her first day in the hills, had given her what had hitherto been an almost-forgotten joy, and every day since that joy had increased. Even from the first hour he had called to her, and she had answered. Evidently the love and it could be nothing else but love—had been predestined, a thing of the instincts that all the barriers of caste and circumstance could not restrain.

But it must never, never be. Only tragedy lay that way, and she had had enough tragedy. She looked at the matter calmly, and she knew her only possible course.

The barrier between her and the side was wholly impassable, and it must be for ever. The train driver, he was an exile in the North; the man of cities. He was of the storm and the windy shore, the desolation and the solitude; and she was of warmth and laughter and beauty. He was of another plane and caste, and never the two could meet. Besides, she had gone too far with Ivan to turn away from him. She had given him her promise.

She knew her course. In a few more days she and the man who loved her would launch their boat and row away; and Pete would be left on the desolate shore. They would never cross trails again. Slowly these strange, rapturous memories that already seemed like dreams instead of the living events of the hours just gone would fade and die, just as many of the best things in life do. But she would not let them die. She would live for Ivan. In time the poignant pain would pass away, and she would find the normal contentment of marriage.

As soon as the Russian returned she would remove all danger by putting herself forever out of Pete's reach. Thus she could defend her willful heart, cheat the enigmatic destiny that had fated with her so long, and perhaps find a humble share of human happiness.

Afternoon Frocks For Midsummer Days Feature Many Dainty Feminisms

THE purely feminine frock is the summer frock. Never have dresses been so luxuriously lace-trimmed, so fragile as to texture, or so lovely as to coloring.

There are the all-lace gowns, the lace and net combinations, organdies, printed chiffons and fluffy tulle. Colors follow pastel shades rather than brilliant ones, as bright colors are left more for sports wear. Yellow predominates at the garden party, as it does for evening and sports wear. Soft orchids and rose shades give yellow a rather close second. Black and white is also a favorite combination and all white is popular, providing it is touched up with color.

Of the lace frock, columns could be written but suffice to say that there is no formal gathering where the lace frock is not in evidence. Just now, lace frock, worn over black, is the most popular effect. White lace and net combined is worn over a peach colored slip. Taupe lace over self color is lovely and black over peach, flesh or tan is good. While many frocks use the all-lace robe, the most recent adaptations combine lace with net, chiffon or organdie. Wide laces with open weaves are preferred to narrow laces.

The lace frock is nearly always held about the low waistline with a satin sash of harmonizing shade. Two-toned organdies, with many ruffled skirts are chosen by the younger set for the garden party frock. The off-shoulder neckline is often used and sleeves are conspicuously absent. Where two-shades of ribbon are used about the waist and fall in streamer effect at one side. Often odd little nosegays of flowers finish the ends of the streamers.

Flower-trimmed chiffons are perhaps the loveliest of garden party frocks, for they are veritable gardens within themselves. White backgrounds with roses and green leaves figured on the material are admirable worn over a very pale rose or pale green slip.

Hats which accompany the dainty summer frock are invariably large this year. Capeline, horsehair and all transparent brims are popular and pastel shades matching the frock are generally used. An orchid chiffon frock with finely pleated tunic augments its color scheme by using a hat of light green horsehair trimmed in orchids. Again such a gown may use the orchid colored hat, thus keeping the entire scheme in orchid. While a few pastel-toned shoes such as orchid, yellow, blue, are worn matching the frock, the general trend seems to be toward the light champagne shoe and stockings or the popular black satin shoe with nude-toed hosiery.

One notices few jewels worn with the summer afternoon out-of-door frock. Perhaps this is because the popular semi-precious crystal, jade, carnelian, are too heavy for the flimsy frock. Earrings are not nearly so popular as they have been. In fact, with the exceptions of necklaces and bracelets, there is little or no jewelry worn. White jewelry is quite popular and coral pink is also a favorite for the summer occasion. Pink-dyed bone beads, either plain or with carving are very new and pretty.

One doesn't wear gloves these days even to the most formal afternoon party. Parasols, however, are considered indispensable and whether opened or closed, tend to complete one's outfit. Ruffled tulle parasols with painted wooden handles are often chosen to accompany the summery frock. Apricot is a popular shade for the parasol and often is carried with the ecru lace frock which is worn over a nude-colored slip. Black and white lace effects are decidedly smart. The white parasol is often covered with black lace.

Bible Classes To Have Outing Tomorrow Night

The Men's Bible class and the Loyal Women's class of the First Christian church are planning a most enjoyable outing at the Pleasure Pier tomorrow evening. The entertainment will be held at 7:30 o'clock.

S. BIRDMEN RESUME TRIP

Three Planes Overhauled, Aviators on Way Home

BROOKLYN, N. Y., July 30.—The American round the world flier, was welcomed to his home by his wife and his comrades taking off the Kikewell in a three-engine plane, 350 miles to the northward at 10:30 a. m.

At dawn the three planes, spick and span for the start of the last long trans-Atlantic journey, were wheeled to the airways and launched on the trip. They were off with oil and fuel and four hours later were in the air, roaring northward.

Cheered by crowds, a large crowd cheered the departure.

The weather was calm, in contrast to the storms that hampered the aviators in their final preparations during the past week.

Before leaving Lieutenant Smith thanked the Blackburn for the use of its airplane plant here and the assistance furnished by its staff. Mementos for the world planes were provided by the plant's employees.

To Be Greeted By Major. Waiting for the flier at Kikewell is Major Howard C. Davidson, air attaché of the American embassy in London. He and Lieutenant Smith will consult weather reports from Iceland and Greenland when the aviators arrive. The next "hop" will take the world planes to Iceland.

"THE GOLDFISH"

"The Goldfish," presented at the Peoples theatre today for a three-day run, depicts Constance Talmadge in a lullaby of love-making, as "Jenny Wetherby," heroine of the story.

The story centers about a bowl of goldfish, which Jenny sees to be a trio of husbands that one at a time they are no longer wanted. "Jenny Wetherby," role ably played by Jack Mulhall, succeeds in being Jenny's first and last husband, but in the meantime, Jenny is the victim of love's spell of romance as she and her dukes propose matrimony to her.

Constance Talmadge finally succeeds in getting back on familiar ground—a sparkling comedy with this comedienne at her best.—July Photoplay Magazine.

"DADDIES"

"Daddies" tells a story of a 17-year-old girl who comes as an orphan to the home of a wealthy bachelor, trying to do a good turn by adopting a "war baby." The picture starts today at the Strand theatre. The story is woven about four other lullabies who have adopted war babies, and who, as a final reward are driven to find wives for themselves that their adopted children may have mothers.

Mae Marsh is featured in the title role.

"A good version of the clever stage play, with Mae Marsh and Harry Myers leading the cast."—April Photoplay Magazine.

The fact the well came so near blowing out of its own accord made it necessary to haul great quantities of mud to keep it in check. The well has all the earmarks of a gusher such as was originally brought in by the Humble company here.

WEARS GLASSES BUT HITS MARK

Slim, Frail Youth Collects
$1500 Prize

By NEA Service
OTTAWA, Canada, July 30.—A slim, frail youth of 19, son of a school principal here, a youth who wears heavy spectacles at all times, has walked off with the prize shooting honors of the year—the King's Prize at Bisley Camp, England.

To many such an honor might seem trivial, but to residents of Ottawa it means glory.

President Desmond Burke, member of the Governor-General's Foot Guards, is the fortunate lad. The accompanying prize of $1500 will enable the youth to go to college and get a higher education which otherwise he would have been unable to attain.

Young Burke's score was 69 and that included 33 bulls at 1,000 yards, a real feat of marksmanship.

The King's Prize dates back to 1890. Queen Victoria started the competition to encourage marksmanship. She opened the first tourney and the star goes she made a bull's-eye at 400 yards. Since then the shooting for the prize has been an annual event, and the winner considered the best shot in all the United Kingdom.

That's why Ottawa is excited because her strapping youth copped the prize.

150 MEN JOIN SLAYER SEARCH

Believe Run Runners Killed
Deputy U. S. Marshall

WILMINGTON, N. C., July 30.—Poses of 150 men today searched for run runners believed responsible for the murders of Deputy United States Marshal Lilly and Leon George, prohibition agent.

The bodies of the two enforcement officers, riddled with bullets, were found in their automobile near Phoenix last night. Neither had fired his weapon and a dog belonging to George was found shot to death nearby.

Lilly and George had been active in combatting run runners and bootleggers along the southeast coast and authorities organized posers of deputies and civilians to search the countryside in the belief they were killed while pursuing whiskey peddlers.

WINGED DRAPERIES
Wing-like draperies offer the only relief from straight lines in many of the new evening gowns, and floating panels that reach below the hemline are also with us again.

LININGS
White linings are very smart in black satin coats, with possibly a scarf of bright red.

FIGURES
Tiny Russian figures in very bright colors are painted all over the surface of black or white silk sport hats.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"Ouch! Murder! Help!" he yelled.

When Nancy took away Mrs. Woodchuck's picnic basket and put it in a safe place to keep for her, Reddy Fox was so furious that he could have bitten his own tail off almost.

"Just when I was all fixed for a scrumptious picnic dinner!" he cried, "to think of having it taken from under my very nose."

He didn't dare to follow Nancy, for Reddy wasn't allowed in Happy Go Lucky Park at all.

Mister Zip had put up signs everywhere which said, "Foxes and weasels not allowed in."

Reddy Fox thought of every way he could to get Mrs. Woodchuck's picnic basket. But it was not a bit of use.

After a bit he just had to slink off into the deep dark woods where there were not any woodchucks or picnics or anything, and think how badly he had been treated.

In the meantime, Nancy put the basket in a place that said, "Baskets and packages checked here."

She got a check for it and went and gave it to Mrs. Woodchuck.

"You'd better put this check in your pocket," she said. "When you want your basket just give it to Mister Zip and he'll hand your basket out. It's safer that way. I was afraid something might happen to it on the ground."

"Thank you, ever so much," said Mrs. Woodchuck, and went on with her knitting, wondering what time Mister Woodchuck would be there for his supper and if she had better call her boys out of the piddle pond where they were wading, and get on their shoes and stockings.

At that very minute Mister Zip called to Nick, "Nick, there's a big wasps' nest over on a tree, near the gate. Come along and help me get it down, will you?"

"Certainly, sir," said Nick, obligingly.

"Bring a basket," said Mister Zip, "and hunt up a long stick and be sure you get a lid to cover the basket. We won't want to get stung."

"All right, sir," said Nick.

So he got a chip basket and a lid and a stick and away they went to find the wasps' nest.

Pretty soon they found it.

Nick gave it a poke with his long stick and it dropped plump into the basket—Mister Zip snatched on the lid.

"Ha, ha!" laughed the fairyman. "That was slick. Never got stung once, did we? Now carry it over and put it under those bushes and we'll dump it over the cliff tomorrow when we have more time."

So away went Nick and Mister Zip.

After while Reddy Fox came out of the deep dark woods, hungrier than ever. It did seem as though he just couldn't keep away from the spot where Mrs. Woodchuck's basket had been.

Suddenly he stopped and blinked his eyes. There was the basket again as sure as anything Nancy must have brought it back.

"Oh, boy!" he cried. "Now for a gorgeous meal or my name isn't Reddy Fox!"

The next thing he did was to poke off the lid with his nose.

"Ouch! Murder! Help," he yelled. For the wasps were pretty crazy that time and ready to sting anybody that came near them.

Poor Reddy couldn't see out of his eyes for a week, but I think he learned a lesson. If he didn't, I'm sure he should have, don't you?

CHILD'S STORY OF THE HUMAN RACE

By Uncle RAY

GAMES OF GROWN FOLKS

The "Older Folks" in a castle, as well as the children, had games to play. Some men like "dice-throwing" best. They would play for Many games of cards were in use. People also cheated with these. The main way was to mark certain cards, or to have extra ones to slip into the hand.

Every one in a while, kings or bishops tried to put an end to gambling with dice or cards. Their orders may have cut down the gambling a trifle, but it was not stopped by any means.

Greatest of all games was chess. We do not know just when the game was invented. It was probably first played in India. The people of the land of Two Rivers (Mesopotamia) also knew the fun of chess-playing.

During the Middle Ages there was hardly a castle in which chess was not played. King and church tried to keep it down, but their efforts were vain.

Chess is far above any other indoor game I know about. I hope that some day you will learn to play it. It is a matching brain against brain. Once you know it well, you will enjoy every moment you play.

The French began to play chess more than a thousand years ago.

When French, English and German knights went to the Crusades, many of them took along sets of chess. When not fighting the Saracens, they were likely to be found playing chess in their tents. The Saracens, on their part, were just as fond of the game. Thus enemies played at the same thing at the same time!

Chess might be called a "game of war." Each side has two knights, two bishops, two castles, a king and a queen. The queen has more power than any other two pieces put together. She is a strong guard for the king, and does much to keep him from being cornered. On each side are eight pawns or "foot-soldiers."

Color Cut-Outs

The Prisoner

Once more Betty and Billy Cut-out found themselves passing the mysterious looking cottage in which the cross old woman and the pale little girl lived. As they came near, the old woman was just going out of the house. She looked the gate carefully behind her and hobbled off toward town with her market basket.

Betty and Billy walked slowly past the place. Just as they came to the house the door opened and the little girl they had seen the day before came running out. At sight of Betty and Billy she stopped shyly. "Hello," said Betty in a friendly manner, and she and Billy stopped by the gate.

The little girl came up slowly, looking about as though she expected to see the old woman come pouncing on her any minute.

Color this old woman's shawl purple and her skirt purple with tan squares. The market basket is yellow.
